W. ROSS THATCHER
Premier of Saskatchewan

The initiative of the Knights of Columbus in sponsoring the Jubilee Games cannot be commended too highly.

The Government of Saskatchewan is keenly interested in the encouragement of athletic and recreational programs of every kind for young people. The new Saskatchewan Youth Agency has vigorously tackled this task of stimulating interest in youth programs.

A system of grants has been established, through which a large number of organizations have been assisted. Community projects carried on in school buildings are being aided by our "Lighted School House" grants. Headquarters staff, field representatives, a Youth Representative Council and a Youth Advisory Council are hard at work.

As a result of this leadership, new recreation boards have sprung up in scores of centres all over the province.

In all of this, the government is in no way seeking to "take over", or to impose anything on anyone. At least as much as ever, we still look to voluntary organizations to carry the ball once the necessary stimulus has been provided.

It is for these reasons that we so warmly welcome events like the Knights of Columbus Jubilee Games.

Congratulations to the sponsors, Good luck to all the competitors, and may the Games be a complete success!

W. ROSS THATCHER.

Saskatonians were privileged last year to see the first Saskatchewan Indoor Games. It brought to our City many famous athletes, and so imbued in the minds of our formative athletes the wholesomeness and goodness related to athletics.

A great deal of work and effort went into last year's 'Games', and into the plans for this year. May I compliment and commend those who have given of themselves in order to help others, and may these Games be even more successful than last year.

Best wishes to the participants and may your efforts always result in being 'higher', 'faster' and 'stronger'.

C. P. (CY) MacDONALD

On behalf of the Saskatchewan Youth Agency, I want to congratulate all those responsible for the Jubilee Games Indoor Track Meet.

Track and field is rapidly becoming an integral part of the Saskatchewan Amateur Athletic Program. To extend the opportunity for competition throughout the winter will make a significant contribution to its continued growth and development.

Activities that give young people the opportunity of using their energy and vitality in the pursuit of worthwhile goals, must be commended. Track and field demands those qualities in our youth most necessary to their development as good citizens.

To the athletes, may I wish you the best of luck and express the hope that this meet will improve the standard of competition in Saskatchewan and across Canada.

SYMBOL OF SERVICE

When over 75,000 farmer-members do their business the 'Pool' way there must be a reason.

There is! For over 40 years the Saskatchewan Wheat Pool has been providing reliable service to Saskatchewan farm families. Members are proud of their organization and the part it played in developing the agriculture of the province. The Pool belongs to them, it is theirs. They decide the policy and have a say in how things are run.

By supporting the Pool they are helping themselves. It just makes good sense to patronize your own business.

Isn't this reason enough?

WILL KLEIN

I am pleased on behalf of the Saskatchewan Centennial Corporation, to offer our best wishes for success to the 1966 Knights of Columbus Saskatchewan Indoor Games.

The success of this event, first held during Saskatchewan's Diamond Jubilee year in 1965, has been widely acclaimed. The Saskatchewan Centennial Corporation was pleased to provide the unique indoor track which has made this meet possible. We would hope the track will be widely used in our province to develop the athletic prowess of our young people.

To those Saskatchewan athletes entered in the 1966 Games, we say "Good luck". To our National and International competitors, we bid you welcome to our province and wish you well in this and other track meets in which you participate.

As this event is scheduled on the eve of our National Birthday party, I solicit the support of all Saskatchewan people on behalf of Centennial year and the many activities related to it.

We congratulate all of those who are associated with the Indoor Games, and particularly the Saskatoon Knights of Columbus and the press, radio and television people of Saskatoon.

We sincerely hope the 1967 Centennial Indoor Games will be even bigger and better and that they will provide a fitting close to Saskatchewan's Centennial year programs.

The Knights of Columbus of Saskatoon are proud to be the sponsors of the Jubilee Games. We believe with many people interested in athletics an outstanding program is being presented which provides athletes in this area, as well as those who have won acclaim for their accomplishments on the national and international scene, an opportunity to participate in a major indoor meet. We also believe that the interest shown in the Games brings recognition to our city and our province.

We wish to express our gratitude to all the participants in the various events for their interest in our Jubilee Games. Certainly, without it, it would have been impossible to arrange for a program characterized by variety and quality. We wish all of the athletes "Good Luck" in their competitions.

We want to extend a warm welcome to all the competitors and coaches who come to Saskatoon from cities throughout Canada and the United States. It is our sincerest hope that you will find Saskatoon hospitable and your stay enjoyable. Saskatoon appreciates your interest and effort to be here at this time of the year.

We are proud of our local athletes and pleased with their interest and enthusiasm. Your participation is essential for the success of this undertaking. We wish you success at the Games and in all future athletic endeavors.

A great number of people have given unselfishly of their time and effort in preparation for the Games and will continue to do so in the future. The Knights of Columbus are indebted to the directors of the Jubilee Games, to the Saskatoon and Riversdale Kiwanis Track Club, to the business community of Saskatoon, to the professional personnel, and to all who have contributed to the success of this important athletic event. Undoubtedly, without your cooperation, talents, and resources, such an undertaking would have been impossible.

As a sponsoring body, the Knights of Columbus are most appreciative of the opportunity to further assist in the developing of strong bodies and keen minds in the young people of this community as well as throughout our province and our great country generally. We are sure all patrons will witness an interesting, exciting and enjoyable programme.

It is most gratifying to note the tremendous development that has taken place in indoor track and field competition in Canada in the last few years. It is particularly pleasing to see evidence of the interest that has developed in Saskatchewan since the Jubilee Indoor Games in 1965.

If Canada is ever to gain and maintain a place among the top track and field countries in the world, it will only be through extending our limited outdoor season by indoor meets and training programs. The impetus which this meet provides in the opportunities for competition and in the inspirational performances of our invited competitors has resulted in a province-wide upsurge of interest and participation in track and field.

The continued and extended use of the Jubilee Track will establish without a doubt the need for more and better indoor facilities. Congratulations to the Saskatoon K of C Indoor Games for showing the way.

E. W. STINSON, President,

Edward Stanley Temple, who brings two superb female runners to the Saskatoon Knights of Columbus Jubilee Games, has developed many top athletes during his coaching career.

His proteges at this meet will be Una Morris and Madeleine Manning, both of whom will be running in the women's 300 and 600 metres.

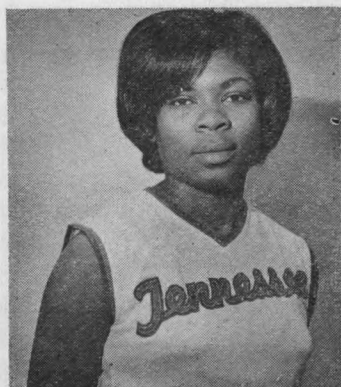

His Tennessee State Tigerbelles rank as one of the most noted track clubs in United States.

EDWARD S. TEMPLE

MADELEINE MANNING

UNA MORRIS

Their stars have included Jean Patton, a winner at the 1951 Pan-American Games; Wilma Rudolph, Isabelle Daniels and Mae Faggs at the 1956 Olympics; Miss Rudolph again at the 1960 Olympics along with Martha Hudson, Lucinda Williams and Barbara Jones; Edith McGuire and Wyomia Tyus at the 1964 Olympics.

Miss Rudolph was one of the most famous, with three gold medal wins in the 1960 Olympics. She won both sprints and anchored the relay team.

Temple's teams have won 13 national AAU championships and he has coached five USA track and field teams in international games, including the Olympic teams of 1960 and 1964.

In 1964, he was honored as track coach of the year.

In important dual meets, his sprinters were usually the stars when the United States faced Russia in competitions in 1959, 1961, 1962 and 1965.

The Knights of Columbus Sponsorship

Since people may not read beyond the first sentence, one should say immediately: All money made from this track meet goes to developing track and field in the Saskatoon area. The Knights of Columbus have taken on this meet entirely as a community project. Not a single cent goes to the Knights' own projects.

In setting up arrangements with the Knights, the Meet Committee said from the first to any sponsor, that the use of any money for anything except track and field was not negotiable. The Knights honoured that point of view and did not press it in any way.

The Knights are not subsidizing the meet in any usual sense. They are supporting a loss up to $5,000.00 spread over the next three years.

The Committee wished to work with the Knights because of their energy, initiative and because of their past and expected work with youth. The Committee also felt that the size and dedication of the Knights organization would give this meet a continuity which could not be given by a smaller organization or one less dedicated.

The first Committee of seven has found immense encouragement and lift working with the Knights. The Committee which runs this meet is created, in the first instance, by the Saskatoon Track and Field Club and the Riversdale Track & Field Club. The members from the track clubs and the citizens at large on the Committee join in expressing thanks to the Knights for the great encouragement and practical assistance they have given. They have helped transform a track meet from an athletic event to a total community effort.

W. "Wally" Stinson

The committee chose Wally Stinson as Honorary Meet Director not only because of his many years of unselfish contribution to Track and Field as a competitor, but more particularly as an Administrator.

He has been among other things, Provincial Fitness and Recreation Director and Meet Director of the British Empire and Commonwealth Trials 1958 and Canadian Olympic Trials 1960.

He is a Director of the Canadian Amateur Sports Federation and President of the Amateur Athletic Union of Canada.

We have valued the experience of working with "Wally".

Eskimo Strength In Stone

The Eskimo carvings which distinguish the trophies for this athletic meet were brought by Professor Robert Williamson from the northernmost Eskimo settlement in the Canadian Arctic — Resolute Bay, Northwest Territories, 600 miles above the Arctic circle. The hunters, who made them during the month of November, 1966, especially for this meet, are among the most outstanding men of the North.

During times of blizzard in the land from which the sun had gone for many months, the men carved these sculptures with hands skilled in the hunting of polar bear, seal, and caribou. Often the best hunters are the best artists. Thus here we have the work of men like Idlout, Sudlovenick, and Kautak, who are not only hunters and carvers but they are also great travellers known widely across the Arctic. They came to Resolute Bay from other parts because the hunting here, for those Eskimos who have the knowledge and the courage, is particularly rewarding. They are hunting right now not for sport but to live.

The stone, a form of steatite, from which Eskimos have always made their seal-oil lamps and vessels, is pried out of deposits found along the shores in summer time. They work with simple metal hand tools, axes, hack-saws, knives, files and stone-dust-dipped sealskin for finishing. They also work with knowing eyes, love of their subject, and powerful simplicity, as true artists.

Always the Eskimo have been known and admired for their ability to survive in the harshest part of the world. They have accomplished this for many thousands of years by the exercise of intelligence, strength of mind and body, and endurance, combined with group team-work and a sense of humor. These are qualities found in the best people in sport, too, and it is appropriate that Eskimo stone art work should come to the prized trophies for the first time in athletic competition, in Canada.

Eskimo stone sculpture has come to be symbolic of Canada as a whole, and is the most highly favored gift to be given by Canadian Government Officials to visiting government persons. Queen Elizabeth, Prince Philip, President Kennedy are among those who have received these gifts. Now these beautiful works are to be won by some of the leaders in the international community of sport.

The carvings are the gift of the

BILL CROTHERS

Bill Crothers, one of the world's foremost 880 yard stars, will be returning to Saskatoon for the Knights of Columbus Jubilee Games and he'll be hoping to score a repeat victory.

One of the great thrills in the 1965 Saskatchewan indoor inaugural came when Crothers burst past George Germann of Seton Hall in the last few yards to win the 880 classic.

Crothers is high on the Saskatoon track. In a letter published in the Track and Field News during the last year, Crothers said: "It is one of, if not, the easiest track on which to run corners".

Crothers seems well adapted to indoor track. He ran the fastest time of the indoor track season in 1966 when he was clocked in the 880 in one minute, 50 seconds. His feat in the New York Athletic Games was just one-tenth of a second off the world indoor mark.

His big disappointment of the year came at the British Empire Games where he finished fourth in the 880. It was mostly a matter of getting "boxed in" at an inappropriate time. He ran one minute, 7.3 seconds in the B.E. Games final.

The Committee wishes to acknowledge with thanks the contribution made by MOLSON BREWERIES in assisting the Knights of Columbus in the staging of the "MOLSON MILE".

THERON LEWIS

One of the world's foremost quarter-milers, Theron Lewis, heads the strong entry from Southern University, Baton Rouge, Louisiana, as the school makes its first appearance at the Knights of Columbus Games.

Lewis held the fastest time in the 440 on North American indoor tracks last winter. He blazed to a 47.8 seconds clocking in winning at the Mason-Dixon Games.

Lewis, who will run the 600 here, won the indoor 600 yard AAU championship last winter. He also proved he was a top man at 500 yards when he won the All-Eastern meet with a time of 57 seconds, the second fastest time in the U.S. last winter.

Lewis gets especially high marks in relay events. He was anchor man on the American relay team in the 1,600 metre race at Los Angeles when the team cracked the three-minute barrier. Lewis was clocked at a sensational 45 seconds flat.

Top summer performance by Lewis occurred at Huron, S.D., when he won the 440 in 45.2 seconds.

Lewis comes out of one of the most speed conscious schools in the United States and he'll be coming with fast company.

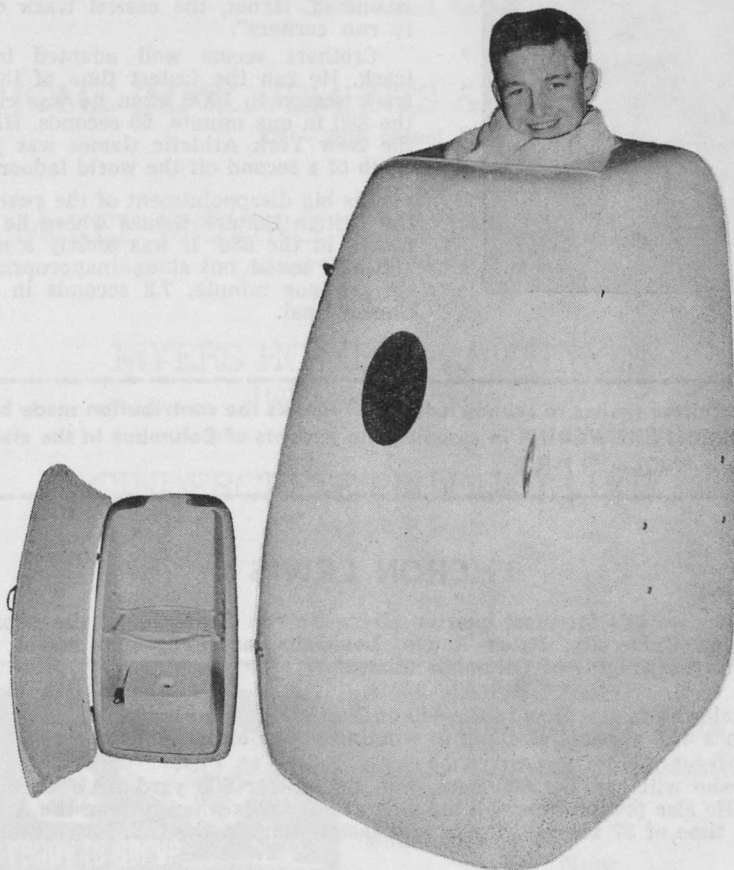

Grundy Harris and Webster Johnson will run in the 300 meters and Bob Johnson will race in the match 880.

Anthony Gates and Everett Mason will also be here to participate in the relay event.

Two other of their team-mates, Robert Lee and Bill McClellon, will be here to participate in the high jump.

He ran the opening leg of the world record 1,600 metre relay along with Lee Evans, Tommie Smith and Theron Lewis in the International games last July. The world record time was two minutes, 59.6 seconds.

SASKATCHEWAN JUBILEE INDOOR TRACK

By DR. R. E. DuWORS and PROFESSOR J. B. LEICESTER

The Saskatchewan Jubilee Games' track has some entirely new design features. Developed by building committee members, Dr. R. E. DuWors, Jay Beaman and John Leicester and design consultants Dean Newman Haslam and Dr. Leon Katz, the new design concepts were sought to answer these problems.

First, could we eliminate stumbling on and off corners if the stumbling were caused by track design?

Second, could we design a track on which a man in the second lane had a fair chance of passing a man on the first or pole lane? (The pole lane is the inner lane on the track.)

Third, could we build a "super-elevated" track in the way a highway curve is built?

Plans formulated by the building committee were drawn up by Walter McNeill, given to a contractor and the new track was born.

The problem of stumbling was met by designing a unique transition section that takes a man from the straightway to the banked curve. The track is pivoted in that section, some 20 feet, between the first and second lanes.

The pivoting is possible because of one of the most striking features of the track. The straightway surfaces of all other indoor tracks are three to five inches off the floor. The Saskatchewan straightway track is 12 inches off the floor. The conventional track then rises to 48 inches on the outside. The only place a runner can avoid going up hill and down hill on the banked ends of such tracks is on the very inner edge of the pole lane. That is one reason runners fight for this position on an indoor track. It is also why men of slightly less speed can beat faster men in short races. The man who gets the pole wins. He wins not only because he is running a shorter distance, but also because the man in lane two is running up and down grade.

On the Saskatchewan track the line of constant elevation (no up or down) is 30 inches in from the inner edge, between the first and second lane. This means the man in the second lane running close to his inner boundary can maintain a constant stride the man on the pole will have a shorter distance to run but he will drop from twelve inches to three inches over 20 feet before each corner and climb from three to twelve inches when he leaves the banked end.

Which runner has the advantage? It will probably depend on the style of running a man uses but it does mean the second lane runner has a good competitive chance to pass the pole runner.

Bill Crothers proved that a man could pass on the last corner of an 880 in the first meet held on the track. He passed Herb Germann when Germann had the pole and a two-yard lead going into the corner. Crothers won by a tenth of a second. The next day Bill Bowerman declared in a televised analysis of the race that it was the only track in the world in which Crothers would have passed a man of Germann's ability with Germann running the pole. A man in the pole no longer automatically controls the track.

The third problem, that of incorporating "super elevation" into the track curve, was abandoned because the estimated racing gain of a super-elevated curve compared to a bank of constant curve was not worth the higher construction costs. But even this constant curvature through the length of each end is unique to this track. The curve does not run up and down throughout all its length as older tracks do. Once through the twenty feet of transition the track is constant.

These three features then, the height above the floor on the straightway, the pivot on a line of constant elevation between the first and second lane in the section leading from the straightway to the curve, and the curve constant through its length, are all entirely unique to the Saskatchewan Jubilee Games' track.

The track is designed, physically, for a 4-minute mile. That choice of event as the one for which the track would be best suited determined the 17-degree angle of the bank. Most tracks have 11 degrees of bank. One should add that this track, as other indoor tracks, is completely portable. It will fit into any space 85 by 185 feet or a larger one as long as the 85-foot width is maintained.

The Saskatchewan Jubilee Games' track was financed with funds provided by the Saskatchewan Diamond Jubilee and Canadian Centennial Committee. Will Klein is director of the committee. It was built by the W. C. Wells Construction Co. Final ownership of the track rests with the Saskatchewan Branch, A.A.U. of Canada, Major Andrews, president.

OSCAR MOORE

Oscar Moore, an entry in the two mile event, heads a strong team of athletes who are coming from Southern Illinois University, Carbondale, to take part in the Knights of Columbus Jubilee Games.

Moore was a member of the U.S. Olympic team in 1964 and he holds the Southern Illinois school record for two miles in 8.41.9. During 1966, he won the 5,000 metres at the Kansas relays, set two-mile records at the Florida and Drake relays, won the six miles in the USTFF games at Indiana, was fourth in the NCAA six miles and has even run the mile in a time of 4.04.

Southern Illinois will also be represented by Ross MacKenzie in the 300 metres, Al Ackman in the 600 and 880 and by Jeff Duxbury in the mile. Duxbury is a native of New South Wales, Australia, and looms as one of the most valuable additions to the Southern Illinois team.

Their coach is Lew Hartzog, who has handled the SIU track team for seven years. One of the highlights of his career came in 1962 when he guided SIU to a fourth place finish in NCAA championships, crowding such notables as Oregon, Villanova and Southern California.

SOUTHERN UNIVERSITY

Southern University in Baton Rouge, Illinois, is quickly gaining fame as a track power in the United States.

Saskatchewan fans will see their very best talent on parade in the Knights of Columbus Jubilee Games on Dec. 28-29.

Southern's fame has already captured space in Time magazine.

The magazine recalled how Southern was founded in 1880 by Pinckney Benton Stewart Pinchback, the only Negro governor Louisiana ever had. It is now a 6,800 student state college.

The coach of the team is Dick Hill, who is 30 and a Southern graduate of 1960. Hill coached for two years at Florida A & M, where he trained sprinter Bob Hayes, the current world record holder in the 100-yard dash at 9.1 seconds.

Two years ago, Hill returned to Southern to build up the track team's record book.

He works his boys six days a week, and according to Time, if anyone gets uppity, Hill has a ready answer "Let's race."

A former decathlon star, he can still run the 100 in under 10 seconds and high jump six feet, 10 inches.

"Other coaches may be able to show you on a blackboard," says one of his stars, "but coach Hill goes right out there and demonstrates. And beats you while he's at it."

HIGH JUMP

The first seven-foot high jump in Saskatchewan history remains the aim of competitors scheduled to take part in the Knights of Columbus Jubilee Games.

Each of the four entries, John Dobroth, John Thomas, Robert Lee and Bill McClellon, has surpassed the seven-foot level at one or more times during their careers.

Dobroth, who was here last year, was one of the top hands in the U.S. during the season, cracking the world listings at seven feet, one-quarter inch, and being among 10 who reached the seven foot level during indoor meets.

Thomas also had a seven-foot high jump during the last indoor season, winning the AAU championship in the process. Thomas, of course, is the former world record holder and co-holder of the Olympic record at seven feet, 1¾ inches.

Lee and McClellon are both from Southern University and McClellon is noted as the first U.S. high school star to jump seven feet.

BOB SEAGREN

Bob Seagren of Los Angeles heads a list of three accomplished pole vaulters, who will ply their trade in one of the feature events at the Knights of Columbus Jubilee Games.

Seagren was here a year ago and the meet proved to be a stepping stone to the best season he ever enjoyed.

He held the world pole vault record for part of the 1966 season. He set the mark at the West Coast relays in May, vaulting 17 feet, five and one-half inches. The record was regained by John Pennell during the month of July.

Seagren still holds the world indoor record with a mark of 17 feet, three-quarters of an inch, set in the Knights of Columbus meet at Cleveland.

Seagren's challengers this trip will be Paul Wilson of the University of Southern California, Dennis Phillips of Oregon State and Fred Burton of Wichita. All have been exceptionally consistent in U.S. collegiate circles during the last season.

CANADA'S GREATEST MILE

The talent signed for the Knights of Columbus Jubilee Games mile is almost unbelievable.

Three of the entries have run the mile in less than four minutes.

Neil Duggan, formerly of Great Britain and now at Hancock Junior College in California, is fourth-ranked among world milers in 1966. His best time was three minutes, 56.1 seconds and has been bettered only by Jim Ryun, Kipchoge Keino and Jim Grelle.

Dave Bailey of Toronto and Roscoe Divine of Oregon State are also rated among the top 10 milers, each boasting a best time of three minutes, 59.1 seconds. Bailey is the only Canadian ever to run a mile in less than four minutes.

Two others are just nudging the four-minute mark. Defending champion Ergas Leps was clocked at 4.01 at the British Empire Games this summer and Tom Von Ruden of Los Angeles Forty-Niners has a 4.01.7 mile.

The field doesn't end there because added starters will be Jeff Duxbury of Southern Illinois, Herb Germann of Seton Hall University, Arthur DuLong of Holy Cross and Ray Haswell of the University of Alberta.

The field is undoubtedly the finest ever assembled for a mile race in Canada and should provide the highlight of the 1966 indoor games.

WOMEN STARS

Directors of the Knights of Columbus Jubilee Games accomplished some prize catches in assembling talent for the women's invitational 600 yard and 300 metre races.

Slated to appear are:

Abby Hoffman, winner of the 880 at the British Empire Games, at Kingston, Jamaica;

Cecelia Carter, a Hamilton school teacher, who owns the world's fastest time for the 600 yards, one minute, 23.6 seconds;

Madelaine Manning, a Cleveland native, who owns the world indoor half-mile record for women, two minutes, 10.2 seconds;

Una Morris, a former Olympic star and now in an American college, and holder of the women's indoor 300 yard record in 35.9 seconds;

And Janet Maddin, brilliant University of Manitoba speedster, who may be favored in the 300 metre sprint.

LOS ANGELES TEAM

Five outstanding runners from the Los Angeles Forty-Niner track club have been added to the roster of stars coming to the Knights of Columbus Games.

The standouts are Jim Kemp, 300 metres; Dave Crook, 600 metres; John Perry, 880; Tom VonRuden, mile; and Harry McCalla, two miles. The combination of Kemp, Crook, Perry and VonRuden will run the mile relay and be a strong challenge to the sensational team from Southern University.

Kemp, formerly of Kentucky State, has best times of 20.6 in the 220 and 46.1 in the 440. Crook was the Big Eight conference champion while at Nebraska, winning the 600 in 1.09.8 and the outdoor 440 in 45.8 seconds. Perry, from Oklahoma State, recorded a 1.47.7 half mile and should be tough opposition for Canada's Bill Crothers. VonRuden, also of Oklahoma State, has run the mile in 4.01.7. McCalla, formerly of Stanford University, has a 4.01.5 in the mile and an 8.52.4 in the two mile distance.
